Term 2, 2018
Week 2 of 11 Weeks

Newsletter: April 26th, 2018

Dear Families of Yarra Glen PS,

Welcome to this week's newsletter. This week the school was represented by Sienna Benson and Noah Lyons as they read out their creative writing pieces at the Yarra Glen ANZAC day service. Both students spoke very confidently and represented YGPS with honour and integrity.

One of our Annual Implementation goals for 2018 is to improve communication between teachers and parents. School Council has formed a Communication subcommittee who are exploring ways to improve communication in our school.

There are two types of conversations you could have with your child's teacher: a short discussion over a simple, minor matter or an in-depth discussion over an ongoing issue or something more serious, which usually requires an appointment with the teacher.

Some common issues that are raised with teachers include:

- how well my child is doing with their school work
- improving my child's reading
- identifying my child's strengths
- improving subjects that my child is not strong in
- how my child gets on with other children
- concerns about things going on in your family.

Some things you can do to prepare for these discussions include finding the right time to talk to your child's teacher and being prepared ahead of time for these discussions.

When asked how they'd like parents to approach them, teachers suggested that parents should:

- be clear about what they want to discuss
- have an idea of what they would like to happen or what outcome they would like to achieve
- talk about current issues and try not to bring up things that happened in the past or are not relevant to what is happening now
- come with a positive attitude with the understanding that you and the school will work together in a way that benefits your child's learning
- make a plan and decide together what the teacher will work on in the classroom and how you can help at home

Encouragement
Resilience

Inclusiveness

Attendance Facts

If your child attends school 100% they will be able to make the best of all opportunities available to them.

If your child has 90% attendance over 11 years at school, they will have missed over one years education!

If your child has 80% attendance over 11 years at school, they will have missed over TWO years education!!

- decide how you will keep in touch with the school and your child's teacher – by phone, email or follow-up meetings.

Should you need to contact your child's teacher they can be contact through the school office, via direct contact or via email. Email addresses for each grade are listed below:

Group 1: Ms Tash Owen (Years F and 1) owen.natasha.k@edumail.vic.gov.au

Group 2: Ms Marie Martin (Years F and 1) martin.marie.e@edumail.vic.gov.au

Student Wellbeing

Well done to all our students who continue to show PERRI values this week.

Department updates

A reminder that year 6 to 7 transition forms including their preferences needs to returned to Ms Pitt no later than Friday 11 May 2018.

150th

Sommer Gloury will be working with Helen Ryan to work on our 150th year of learning. This is what has happened so far by Mrs. Ryan:

- Book has been started at the office. Please keep putting your names there if interested in helping.*
- Time capsules located [they might stay there a while longer]. Ideas for the 150th time capsule being brainstormed*
- Request put out on the “Growing up in Yarra Glen” FB page.*
- Photos being collected from school archives and various community groups*
- Helen liaising with historical society*
- Our Open Day for November 13th is being brainstormed*
- Curriculum units around “The Olden Days” are being explored.*

Regards,
Michael
Acting Principal

Our vision is to prepare young people to become active, engaged and responsible citizens of the local and global community. It aims to prepare students to contend with a very dynamic 21st century in which creativity, cooperative work, connectedness to the world and adaptability are key features. The school aspires to provide a contemporary approach to teaching and learning in its purposeful learning environment.

Health Alert

There has been reported a case of Impetigo (school sores) within the school. The included information below gives you further information about what this looks like and how to treat it.

Students must stay away for 24 hours after treatment is implemented. When a child with Impetigo returns to school, all sores must be covered as it is very contagious.

Impetigo is not a serious illness, but a doctor visit to gain some medication to treat the bacteria is required. The enclosed information is from the Royal Children's Hospital.

Impetigo (school sores)

Impetigo (im-pet-eye-go) is an infection of the skin caused by bacteria. It is often called school sores because it is common among school children. Impetigo causes sores on the skin, which are usually itchy. The sores may start out as blisters that burst and become weepy, before being covered with a crust. Impetigo is not usually a serious infection, and should clear up a few days after starting medical treatment. Children with impetigo are very infectious (contagious), but the spread of impetigo can be reduced by practising good hygiene, covering the sores with dressings and keeping your child away from other children until they are no longer infectious.

Signs and symptoms of impetigo

- The sores can be anywhere on the body, but are often on the face near the mouth and nose, or on the arms and legs.
- Impetigo may start with a blister or a group of blisters.
- The blister bursts leaving a patch of red, wet, weepy skin.
- The sore usually becomes coated with a tan or yellowish crust, making it look like it has been covered with honey.
- There can be small spots around the first sores, spreading outwards.
- There is often superficial peeling on the edge of the sore.
- Impetigo is usually itchy.

Parents sometimes worry about impetigo because it can look quite serious, but it is usually a mild infection that is easy to treat.

What causes impetigo?

Impetigo is an infection of the skin caused by staphylococcus or streptococcus bacteria. These bacteria can live on the skin, in the throat or nose, or on other parts of the body without causing a problem, but sometimes they can cause an infection such as impetigo. Impetigo can occur on healthy skin, but it usually happens when the skin has already been damaged by a scratch, bite or a disease affecting the skin, such as eczema or chickenpox.

Impetigo is very easily spread, usually through contact with the fluid or crusts of an impetigo sore, which contain the bacteria.

- Contact with the sore or with things that have been on the sore (e.g. clothing, dressings, towels) can spread the infection to other people.
- A sore takes about one to three days to develop after contact with fluid or crusts from a sore.
- The sore is itchy and children can scratch it, often spreading the infection to nearby skin or to other parts of their own body.
- A sore can be infectious for as long as it is weeping. It will usually stop being infectious about 24 hours after starting antibiotic treatment, once it has begun to heal.

Impetigo can occur even when the skin is kept clean, and it is not a sign of poor hygiene or bad parenting. Impetigo is more common in the hotter months.

When to see a doctor

If your child has signs and symptoms of impetigo, take them to see a GP. The doctor will make sure the sores are impetigo, and may prescribe antibiotic medicine in the form of a cream, ointment, tablets or syrup. Give these to your child as directed, and make sure you complete the course of antibiotics.

If your child gets impetigo repeatedly your doctor may do a nose swab to test for bacteria in the nose. Your child may need antibiotics, which are delivered into the nose, to prevent further instances of impetigo.

Care at home

- Continue any creams or ointments that you have been prescribed until all sores are healed. The sores should clear up in a few days with treatment.
- A daily 10 minute bleach bath may help to reduce the amount of bacteria on your child's skin and reduce the risk of the impetigo spreading. Use regular White King Bleach 4% chlorine: add 12 mL for every 10 L of water.
- It is important to remove the crusts from the sores, to allow any ointments treating the sores to reach the infection properly. The best way to do this is to soak your child in a bleach bath for 20–30 minutes, while wiping the crusts away with an unused, wet disposable cloth (e.g. a Chux).
- Try to prevent your child scratching the sores as much as possible to avoid scarring, bleeding or further infection. Cover the sores with a watertight dressing, and cut your child's fingernails.
- Keep your child home from child care, kindergarten or school until 24 hours after starting medical treatment. After this time, they can be around other children again, but cover up their sores completely with dressings.

Take your child back to the GP if:

- the sores are spreading or getting worse, even after treatment
- your child has become unwell, for example, with a fever
- you are worried for any other reason.

Reducing the spread of impetigo

The following strategies may help reduce the chances of your child catching impetigo from another child, or reduce spread of impetigo if your child has it.

- A daily bath or shower with soap and water may reduce the risk of impetigo. Antiseptic soaps can be used, but these may irritate the skin of some people.
- Encourage your child to practise good hygiene, including regular hand washing and throwing away used tissues. Cut your child's fingernails short and keep them clean.
- Make sure that grazes or cuts are thoroughly washed. If your child is scratching a sore, cover it with a watertight dressing.
- People coming in contact with someone with impetigo need to wash their hands regularly.
- Put all dressings from impetigo sores in a bin with a lid as soon as they are taken off.
- If your child has impetigo, wash their clothes, towels and bed linen separately from the rest of the family. Wash them in hot water and dry in the sunshine or a hot tumble dryer. Toys can be washed using a mild disinfectant.

Key points to remember

- Impetigo is very infectious and can be easily spread to other children.
- Try to prevent your child scratching the sores as much as possible. Cover the sores with a watertight dressing and cut your child's fingernails.
- It is important to remove the scabs from the sores.
- Complete all courses of antibiotics as prescribed and continue treatment with creams or ointments until all sores are healed.
- Your child can go back to child care, kindergarten or school after 24 hours of treatment and when the sores are completely covered with dressings.

- It is important to remove the scabs from the sores.
- Complete all courses of antibiotics as prescribed and continue treatment with creams or ointments until all sores are healed.
- Your child can go back to child care, kindergarten or school after 24 hours of treatment and when the sores are completely covered with dressings.

Common questions our doctors are asked

Will my child's impetigo sores scar?

If your child does not scratch and cause bleeding, almost all impetigo lesions will heal without leaving any scarring.

How long do I need to keep my child away from child care?

As impetigo is very infectious, it is important to keep your child home until 24 hours after you start medical treatment. When your child returns to child care, make sure you completely cover with dressings any sores that other children might come into contact with.

ANZAC Day

There was a massive crowd for the ANZAC Day Service in Yarra Glen. Sienna Benson and Noah Lyons did a fabulous job reading “What ANZAC Day Means To Them”. I was very proud of the choir who performed “Spirit of the ANZACs” and leading the community in the National Anthem for New Zealand and Australia. The Yarra Glen RSL have got it right in involving the local schools. The legacy of ANZAC will live on through the younger members of the community.

Tuning into Teens

Emotionally Intelligent Parenting

A FREE six session parenting program for parents of teens

Parenting can be a challenge at times so would you like to learn how to:

- communicate more effectively with your teen?
- understand your teen better?
- help your teen to manage those difficult emotions?
- help to prevent behavioural issues in your teen?
- teach your teen how to deal with conflict more effectively?

Tuning into Teens shows you how to help your teen to develop emotional intelligence.

Research shows teens with higher emotional intelligence:

- have more stable and satisfying relationships as adults;
- are able to deal with peer pressure better,
- are more able to cope positively when upset or angry,
- have fewer mental health issues and substance abuse difficulties.

When

Tuesdays 6.30 pm — 8.30pm commencing 1st May 2018.

Join Healesville Swimming Club

We are a friendly community-based club that provides swimmers of all ages with opportunities to develop their swimming skills, learn about and participate in competitive events, and improve their overall health and physical fitness which can be very beneficial for other sports.

If your child can competently swim all strokes (freestyle, backstroke, breaststroke and butterfly) and is keen to further develop their swimming skills and fitness, please consider joining the Healesville Swimming Club. Adult members are also most welcome.

We've already had a number of keen new swimmers join up this year, which is really exciting! Swimming Victoria have just announced a pro rata membership from April 2018. The annual Swimming Victoria fee covers the swimming year July to June, which means that people wanting to join the club from April 1st only need pay a reduced rate to cover them until the new swimming year starts in July. Term 2 is a great time to try out our club.

Squad training sessions are held on weekday evenings at the Jack Hort Memorial Indoor Pool at Healesville High School. To find out more please send us an email or come along and watch a squad training session in action (6pm Monday-Thursday evenings). New swimmers can participate in a free trial at one of our squad training sessions. Please let us know in advance if you would like to do this so that we can place you in a suitable squad.
